

LANDSCAPE ROCKSTAR

One of the best things about being a growth partner is getting to know other case studies on a deeper level. So let me share a little about myself.

WHO WE ARE

We're a hybrid prototype company that combines 70% brand assets with 30% business development. Our focus on brand assets involves creating local monopoly with online channels, and getting exposure with TikTok, while our business development team retouches the business base foundation and offers to help them achieve blue markets in highly saturated markets. The approach combines creativity, strategy, and technology to help our clients succeed

CASE STUDY 2.8M in sales and from 5 employees to 12

Overview

We've been working with Matt for about a year on his sales and marketing. Below is a quick recap on the Case Study for his Landscaping business

The Problem they were having...

- Their branding was really out-of-date.
- Their SEO was not targeting their ideal neighborhoods and areas
- Their Website was boring... uninteresting... and didn't differentiate them.
- They were losing out on bids because they couldn't differentiate themselves
- Referrals had dried up and they wanted a new source of leads from the internet, but their current online presence wasn't working.

Matt was working like crazy chasing around low quality leads

How we helped:

- Marketing Plan and Brand Strategy
- Copywriting and Messaging
- Search Engine Optimization (SEO)
- Website Design and Development
- Logo Design

Results

"Honestly, everything you guys have done, you guys have changed my business. You've changed my team. I've grown from five employees to 12 employees in one year. This year we'll hit $2.8 million in sales. Last year we did 1.8, so we're going to increase our sales volume by $1 million in a year. We're developing new staff. We're growing exponentially. And really, it started from the beginning with Bold Brand Vision. You guys are kind of the first part of our business development team, and we're super happy."

CASE STUDY Increase the site keyword base with 276%

Background

They used to work with different SEO agencies before, but never saw satisfactory results. They've tried and tested a number of companies before working with us and were eager to see the results.

The challenging part about structuring the digital marketing strategy for them was that their offer is very niche – even though they are providing construction software solutions to the public, their offer is aimed at general contractors & subcontractors that use software to allocate and manage resources & the workforce.

Activities

We started working with them in July 2020 by carrying out an SEO audit for their website – we've analyzed their site's technical health, the SEO standing and the content side of the website. We've also analyzed and researched their business goals to make sure to take them into consideration when structuring our digital marketing strategy for this client.

Search Engine Optimization (SEO)

To begin with, we've carried out extensive keyword research and competitor analysis to pinpoint low-hanging fruit opportunities that would allow us to rank in the top results of Google SERP in the short term.

Having identified the target keywords that needed to be used throughout the website pages, we've worked with them team to either optimize their existing pages on the site or to create entirely new pages that would help the domain to rank for the identified keywords.

In addition to simply optimizing title tags, H1s, and meta descriptions, we've also revamped the content on the majority of the pages to reflect the search intent of the user and to include the main keywords.

It was also important to perform the content gap analysis to identify the opportunities that can be utilized to fill in the gaps between our site and our competitors' sites in terms of content. The content gap analysis gave us an idea of where we should concentrate our attention in the coming months to catch up/outpace our competitors in terms of organic traffic.

At the same time, we've been working on the content calendar to include additional topics that would be covered to support the main content pieces (guides) that were targeting strategic keywords on the site. For instance, we've created a guide called "L Construction explained" as cornerstone content, and then we've planned to create a series of supporting articles linking to the guide that would help solidify the guide's position in Google.

In addition to on-page SEO work, we've started working on off-page SEO. Having put together a comprehensive link-building strategy together, we've started building links to the key pieces of content on the site.

Results

We are going to sum up the results we've been able to achieve for them in the span of 9 months (July 2020 – March 2021).

Organic Traffic

When it comes to organic traffic, bridgitsolutions.com site saw an additional 223% increase in sessions when compared August 2020 to March 2021 (July figures were skewed due to collaboration with Autodesk).

Keyword Rankings

We've grown the site keyword base by 276%, with 128 new keywords ranking on the first 3 positions in Google SERP. We've also added 97 additional keywords to the first page of Google.
